

1 MAIN POWER LEVER FOR SOUND SYSTEM is the red handle on the right-hand side of amp tower. Turn power on only after you've turned on the component rack and Clear-com intercom system; turn it off before you turn off the component rack and Clear-com. Remember "on last – off first".

2 COMPONENT RACK (from top to bottom):

- Power switch for all components at upper right-hand corner
- Power switches for rack lights
- Mini-disc player #1 (all mini-disc decks are Sony MDS-JE360)
- Mini-disc player #2
- Echo AudioFire 8 interface for SFX digital audio workstation

Copies of the equipment manuals are kept in a binder at the sound work station.

3 COMPONENT RACK (from top to bottom):

- Power switch for all components at upper right-hand corner
- Wireless microphone amplifier
- Power switches for rack lights
- Lexicon special effects generator
- CD player
- Mini-disc player #3 (for recording)

4 MIXER BOARD

- Allen & Heath GL2 model
- Workspace surface to the right of the mixer lifts out for SFX keyboard/mouse inside

5 AMP TOWER

The SFX digital audio workstation, a Bose amp for the bass cannon speaker, four Crest Audio amps (model Vs450), and the bottom two amps for the monitors and assisted listening systems. All equipment in the amp tower is set and should not be adjusted.

6 PATCH BAY (description follows in this packet)

7 SOUND WORK STATION, with cords and other equipment and supplies

8 RECORDING BOOTH

With microphones in this booth, you can record voice or other sounds through the mixer. The booth is also used by our audio-describer, who sits in the booth during a performance and narrates the show to patrons wearing headsets.

Storage of:

- microphones, headphones, and recording equipment
- working phones (modern and period), phone cabling, Tele-Qs
- speakers
- keyboard, music stands, ringers, buzzers, sound effects CDs, and more.

Keep in mind that this booth is kept locked and you will need to arrange access to it if you need equipment or are scheduling actors for a recording session.
